

Here are our learners of the week:

He has shown that he values excellence by doing his best at all times and staying on task, settling into the new group really well.

She has shown that she values integrity and excellence by learning her spelling words and coming to school every day.

He has shown that he values excellence by trying to do his best with his work.

